Communications equipment and towers coverage is one of the most traditional lines of Inland Marine insurance. Over time, this coverage has evolved as transmission and communication methods have changed. BFM can provide the coverage your customer needs to keep their signal strong.

BFM offers two coverage forms specifically designed property and equipment associated with communications risks. Available coverage highlights include:

- Income and Extra Expense Coverage
- Ability to cover multiple locations with different coverage needs
- Nationwide coverage availability
- Coverage for damage to an insured's buildings and business personal property resulting from a tower collapse
- Newly acquired property coverage
